What A Circus!

One afternoon during the dog days of August Teed Elthon and I decided to stage a circus in his back yard. We thought it might be fun, and that we might make a little money by providing some entertainment for the other kids in town. Neither of us had ever been to a circus and all we knew about such a show we had seen in the movies or read in a book. That did not matter, for our imagination would fill in the details. We set a date and time, and then made advertising flyers that we posted around town. For stage curtains we hung blankets and sheets over his mother's clothes lines. We coached our mongrel dogs, "Guilder" and "Bum" into a few tricks, and racked our brains for other entertaining attractions. We talked to Teed's uncle Thelan and he gave us the idea for a freak-show attraction of a "hairless dog." Our friends groaned when we showed them a wiener, also known as a hot dog. It definitely had no hair. We wouldn't have touched it if it had. Another of our fabulous attractions was something we guaranteed had never before been seen by human eyes. When the moment of revelation came we cracked open a peanut shell and proudly held up the peanut for all to see. No one had ever seen it before, nor did they want to see it again.

In some kid's magazine I read about a way to peel a banana and to reveal that it was already sliced. We decided that would make a great act for our circus, so I bought a banana at Elthon's Pioneer store that had a number of brown spots on the skin. I inserted a long sewing needle through a brown spot and moved the needle from side to side to sever the fruit within the peeling. I repeated this operation several times. The brown spots concealed the needle marks, and when I peeled the banana it was already in segments, just as my patter had promised it would be. This was mildly amusing to our paying customers, and they wanted to know, "How did you do that?"

We set up a ring toss game and offered prizes to those who could throw the rings over the bottles. As refreshment we sold grape and cherry flavored Kool Aid by the glass. For two or three days before hand we thought and talked about little other than our circus. We hoped, planned and prepared and on the big afternoon, waited for the crowds to come. Larry and Madelyn Purcell were there, as were Teed's sisters and my brother. A few other town kids showed up and when the show was over we thanked them for coming. When we counted the "gate" we had less than two dollars to split between us, and decided not to take our show on the road.

Our limited financial success was not too discouraging for us. The idea in the first place was to have some fun. By the time the circus was over we already had other ideas and plans in mind and were looking ahead to the next big adventure.

BUZZARD

If you put a buzzard in a pen that is 6 feet by 8 feet and is entirely open at the top, the bird, in spite of its ability to fly, will be an absolute prisoner. The reason is that a buzzard always begins a flight from the ground with a run of 10 to 12 feet. Without space to run, as is its habit, it will not even attempt to fly, but will remain a prisoner for life in a small jail with no top.

BAT

The ordinary bat that flies around at night, a remarkably nimble creature in the air, cannot take off from a level place.

If it is placed on the floor or flat ground, all it can do is shuffle about helplessly and, no doubt, painfully, until it reaches some slight elevation from which it can throw itself into the air.

Then, at once, it takes off like a flash.

BUMBLEBEE

A bumblebee, if dropped into an open tumbler, will be there until it dies, unless it is taken out. It never sees the means of escape at the top, but persists in trying to find some way out through the sides near the bottom. It will seek a way where none exists, until it completely destroys itself.

PEOPLE

In many ways, there are lots of people like the buzzard, the bat, and the bumblebee. They are struggling about with all their problems and frustrations, not ever realizing that the answer is right there "Above" them.

THE REST OF THE STORY - IRAQ

Sent April 22, 2004

This is a letter from Ray Reynolds, a medic in the Iowa Army National Guard, serving in Iraq.

As I head off to Baghdad for the final weeks of my stay in Iraq, I wanted to say thanks to all of you who do NOT believe the media. They have done a very poor job covering everything that has happened. I am sorry that I have not been able to visit all of you during my two weeks leave back home. And just so you can rest at night knowing something is happening in Iraq that is noteworthy, I thought I would pass this on to you. This is a list of things that have happened in Iraq recently: (Please share it with your friends and compare it to the version that your paper is producing.)

- *Over 400,000 kids have up-to-date immunizations.
- * School attendance is up 80% from levels before the war.
- *Over 1,500 schools have been renovated and rid of weapons stored there so education can occur.
- *The port of Uhm Qasar was renovated so grain can be off-loaded from ships faster.
- *The country had its first 2 billion barrel export of oil in August 2003.
- *The 4.5 million people have clean drinking water for THE FIRST TIME EVER in Iraq.
- *The country now receives 2 times the electrical power than it did BEFORE THE WAR.
- *100% of the hospitals are open and fully staffed, compared to 35% before the war.
- *Elections are taking place in every major city and city councils are in place.
- *Sewer and water lines are installed in every major city.
- *Over 60,000 police are patrolling the streets.
- *Over 100,000 Iraqi civil defence police are securing the country.
- *Over 80,000 Iraqi soldiers are patrolling the streets side by side with U. S. soldiers.
- *Over 400,000 people have telephones for THE FIRST TIME EVER.
- * Students are taught field sanitation and hand washing techniques to prevent the spread of germs.
- *An interim constitution has been signed.
- *Girls are allowed to attend school.
- *Textbooks tht don't mention Saddam are in the schools for the first time in 30 years.

Don't believe for one second that these people do not want us there. I have met many, many people from Iraq that want us there, and in a bad way. They say they will never see the freedoms we talk about but they hope their children will. We're doing a good job in Iraq and challenge anyone, anywhere to dispute me on these facts. So if you happen to run into John Kerry, be sure to give him my e-mail address and send him to Denison, Iowa. This soldier will set him straight. If you are like me and very disgusted with how this period of rebuilding has been portrayed, e-mail this to a friend and let them know that there are good things happening.

COOK'S KORNER

Here is a tasty easy recipe that is good to take to picnics.

Cranberry-Blueberry Cobbler

Fruit Mixture -

- 1 3/4 cups sugar
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
- 2 cups fresh or frozen blueberries
- 2 tablespoons Orange juice

Combine all fruit mixture in a sauce pan and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. It will become more juicy as it cooks. Reduce heat and simmer until cranberries pop and sauce is slightly thickened. Pour mixture into a sprayed baking dish. (8 inch or 2 qt. Baking dish)

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Spay an 8 inch square baking dish (2 quarts) with nonstick cooking spray.

TOPPING -

- 1 (6 OZ.) can refrigerated buttermilk flaky biscuits.
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel.

Separate dough into 5 biscuits. Cut each biscuit into quarters. In small bowl, combine the 2 tsp. Sugar and orange peel; mix well. Add biscuits pieces, toss to coat. Arrange over hot fruit mixture. Bake immediately.

Bake 375 degrees for 12 to 17 minutes or until the biscuits are a golden brown. Cool 5 minutes before serving.. Store in refrigerator. Ice Cream is great on it!
